

BY TAXI...

Ask for More London on Tooley Street. You should be dropped off at More London Place – a walkway that runs towards Tower Bridge, between a glass building and the Hilton Hotel.

ONCE AT MORE LONDON PLACE...

Head down the walkway towards the river. You will pass several cafés on your left and M&S Simply Food. When you reach Ernst & Young, Tower Bridge will come into full view together with City Hall. To the right is a tall light feature in front of our building. Go through the gap in the glass fin and the entrance to our building is there.

IF IT'S RAINING...

There's a drier route. Just ask the driver to continue along Tooley Street to the next set of pedestrian lights which are next to the Unicorn Theatre. Take the pedestrian walkway running alongside the theatre towards the river. Ours is the glass building on the right, just after the Unicorn Theatre. Turn right at the front of the building for our entrance.

BY UNDERGROUND OR TRAIN – FROM LONDON BRIDGE STATION...

Several National Rail lines and the Jubilee and Northern tube lines take you to London Bridge. From there take either the Duke Street Hill or Tooley Street exit and turn right onto Tooley Street. Walk past the London Dungeon. Cross the road and soon after, on your left, you will see a glass building, the Hilton Hotel and a pedestrianised walkway running between them. This is known as More London Place. From here, follow the instructions from 'ONCE AT MORE LONDON PLACE'.
